Dear Brenda:

Here is an invoice from Gas-Arc Welding that came in my last mail package from Ann Marie. I am somewhat dumfounded that they believe we still have cylinders that belong to them! Anyway, the invoice ought to be in your hands rather than mine, so I'm sending it back to you for appropriate action, whatever that might be. Perhaps you can locate the person in Accounts Payable who directed it to me, and indicate that you should be receiving any further invoices, though let's hope there won't be any.

Has the Praxair/Gas-Arc situation become any clearer? If not yet, here's hoping it's soon. I surely regret buying anything from Gas-Arc in the first place. I wish I'd known about systems contractors back then, or thought to ask someone in Purchasing for advice.

Best regards,

David P. Steele
